

Carrie is a longtime resident of Aiken, where she has held various careers, including roles as a kindergarten teacher, an admissions representative at an Augusta business college, an assistant director of development and fundraising at the University of South Carolina and a cosmetologist at an Aiken salon. She holds a master's degree from USC and is licensed in skincare, nails and cosmetology. Watch video »